JOHN P. HALE.

HIS OPINION OF GREELEY'S QUALIFICATIONS.

A friend of Mr. John P. Hale, wrote to the veteran abolitionist to ask his views on the present canvass; Mr. Hale, in his reply, refers to the record which Mr. Greeley has made for himself as sufficient to judge him by. In his history and in his newspaper he wrote:

"If the cotton states shall decide that they can do better out of the Union than in it, we insist on letting them go in peace."

To avoid all possibility of being misunderstood he repeats the same doctrine in different words:

"Whenever a considerable section of our Union shall deliberately resolve to go out, we shall resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in." Lest one article might not make his position sufficiently conspicuous, he wrote and published many articles containing the same doctrine.

Mr. Hale comments in these facts as follows:

"If a majority of southern voters, that is, of free white men, would 'deliberately resolve to go out,' he pledged himself to 'resist all coercive measures designed to keep them in.' That was the simplest plan ever suggested for the dissolution of the Union and the perpetuation of slavery. What stronger invitation 'to go out' could he have given the South than that pledge 'to resist all coercive measures designed to keep it in?' Slaveholders, anxious 'to go out,' but dreading the 'coercive measure,' read Mr. Greeley's pledge republished in every southern paper. It is well known that among the influences that changed the doubting and hesitating white men of the South into firm and ardent secessionists, none was more effective than Mr. Greeley's pledge to 'resist all coercive measures.' Whether that pledge was the means of turning the scale, and giving the active secessionists their majority, we may not certainly know until the day of final reckoning; but this we do know, that for all the ruin, desolation and misery of the secession war, no man, North or South, is more responsible than Mr. Greeley.

"He is, in principle, a secessionist to-day as he was when he wrote that article of November 9, 1860. I observe he is stumping the country in his own behalf. When he makes his next stump speech, let any one ask him, in the face of the world, if he still holds the doctrine of secession as stated by him on the 359th page of the first volume of his 'History of the American Conflict;' and he may try to evade the question, but if he is compelled to give a direct, manly and true answer, 'yes' or 'no,' he will answer 'yes.' His secession faith is the basis of his whole political character. On that basis he urged the taxation of the country to pay the slaveholders of their slaves, when he saw they would not sell them. That plan was a part of his system calculated to encourage secession by convincing the South that the North was trembling with terror, and would do anything but fight for a national existence.

"This doctrine of secession is the only article of political faith to which he has shown any disposition to adhere. He was supposed to be an unflinching high tariff man; but, to get free trade votes, he pledges himself to smother and suppress his opinions on the tariff question, and to give no advice and use no influence on that question, which he has pressed as of the most vital importance to the country. He has given no pledge to smother and suppress his opinions on the secession question. What such a pledge would be worth, while his pledge 'to resist all coercive measures' remains unredeemed, you can judge as well as I.

"If such a man could be elected President, what would he do, when his secession views had encouraged the South to secede again? He would, of course, again offer to hire them to remain by paying for their slaves.

"What would be the effect of Mr. Greeley's election? Manifestly, the South would at once be instigated by his sentiments to agitate the question of compensation for their slaves, their debt and their pensions, and with the fiery elements thus fanned into a flame, the agitation would naturally end in our being obliged to recall Grant and the army to put down another insurrection. Obviously no such man could be nominated for President by the Republican party. When he was satisfied of that, then, and not till then, he left us.

"That is one serious aspect of Mr. Greeley's case, and if, in addition to his perverse opinions upon this momentous question of American nationality, you take into the account his excessive vanity, weakness and vacillation, his flabby and yielding moral nature, his eccentric temper and inordinate hankering for office, you have, I think, a full explanation of his present lamentable course."

A FEW FACTS.

The public expenditures under Gen. Grant had been less per capita than under any other President since 1810.

In 1860 the expenditures reduced to a gold basis were $83,125,788 89, or $1 93 per capita.

On the same basis the expenditures in 1871 were $73,554,112 48, or $1 70 per capita.

Of course the amount of public indebtedness chargeable directly to the war is not included.

During three years of Johnson's administration, with a tax of $2 a gallon on whiskey, only $33,000,000 were collected.

During three years of Grant's administration, with a tax of 70 cents a gallon on whiskey, the amount collected and turned into the treasury was $157,000,000.

The expenses of collecting the revenue under Gen. Grant has been one half less than under Johnson.

The aggregate receipts of the Government for the past three years have been $1,185,528,119 73; expenditures during the same time, $824,697,026 80, making a grand total of money passing through the hands of United States officials of $2,080,220,156 53. Out of this amount the Government has lost through defalcation only $1,087,068 64.

Since 1861 the amount of money passing through the hands of General Spinner, United States Treasurer, has been $56,104,382,232 84. Of this vast amount only $65,467 45 has been lost through the dishonesty of the officials in his office.

Since the beginning of Grant's administration the public debt has been reduced upwards of $300,000,000.

Since 1866 the aggregate reduction of internal revenue taxation has been $228,000,000.

When General Grant came into office the … [illegible]

They know the value of an honest administration of affairs, and pay no heed to the foul slanders raised by the Greeley Democracy. Grant still retains the confidence of the people, and will be as nobly sustained by the loyal millions in 1872 as he was in 1868.

THE NEW DOLMAN.—The new garment of which most is seen and heard this fall is the Dolman. There are varieties of this wrap, but a peculiar feature is its great winglike sleeve, or a side piece over the arm hanging in a point below the rest of the garment. The back may be either a nearly-fitted postilion with pleats, or else a looser sack with a single seam up the middle, slashed over the tournure; but the long sleeve over a coat sleeve, or else the drooping side piece beginning high on the shoulder, is invariable. In effect the Dolman somewhat resembles the bashlik of three years ago. It hangs close to the figure in a graceful way, though not delicately draped; as the bashlik was; it is easily put on and off, as the arm opening is much larger than in an ordinary armhole. Inner sleeves of coat shape are added for warmth. Ladies who have velvet or cashmere sacks left from last year can add to them a deep-pointed fall, beginning at the shoulder point, extending far behind, and disappearing under the arm in front; this will give the effect of the new garment.

The most elegant imported Dolmans are of velvet and cashmere. One of Lyons velvet has a closely fitted postilion back, and is trimmed with a band of very glossy black fur. A rich jet ornament is in the point of the sleeve. Another, especially elegant, is of fine drap d'été—a thick cashmere. A vine of leaves in richly raised embroidery and fine jet surrounds the garment, and eaves and buds are wrought at intervals all over it. A gros grain edge over heavy jet fringe is sewed in the leaf scallops of the border. A lace ruche is round the neck, and a bow of faille ribbon at the back of each shoulder. This notably handsome garment is $225.—[Harper's Bazar.

LOSS OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.—A correspondent of the Washington Star writes:—

"The original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence is rapidly fading away, and judging from the past but a few years will elapse before the naked parchment will be the only souvenir remaining of that bold manifesto of a few colonists who, with their lives in their hands, dared to proclaim themselves freemen. Already all the signatures are entirely effaced, and the rest cannot last much longer unless something is done to restore the writing.

"The sacred declaration, together with George Washington's commission as General and Commander-in-chief of the Colonial Army, which is in about the same condition, have been for years on exhibition in the Patent Office; and it is a matter of surprise that no effort has been made by the government to save them from being lost forever to posterity. This is susceptible of being done, as we are credibly informed that the British Museum is constantly restoring old manuscripts to almost their original condition. Do not we possess, like knowledge which can be put to such valuable use?

"Here is an opportunity for our American scientists to distinguish themselves, and we trust they will signify their ability and willingness as quickly as urgent request is made."

NEWSPAPER AND Job Office FOR SALE!

One of the most desirable and remunerative Newspaper and Job Office in the State of Maine is offered for sale, the present proprietor (who is not a native of the State,) being afflicted with a chronic disease which renders a residence in another climate of importance to him. The office is situated in one of the largest and most prosperous towns on the seacoast, a great summer resort, and although less than four years old yields a clear income of $1500 above all expenses, and is steadily increasing. A practical printer who would devote part of his time to office work could clear more than $2000 a year. An early application should be made, as the proprietor has a pressing opportunity for investment in another State. Address CAMDEN HERALD, Camden, Me.

Third District—JAMES ERSKINE, of Augusta.
Fourth District—MOSES CALEF HAZELTINE, of Dover.
Fifth District—WILLIAM McCLINTOCK, of Farmington.

MORE FIGURES.

The late Democratic candidate for this Congressional District has at last ventured a reference to the election returns, and the editorial page of the Commercial of Monday presents the most marvellous jumble of dates and figures which we have ever seen in print. A table of returns of the gubernatorial vote is evidently intended to show the figures for 1868 and 1872, but the vote for the former year is designated as for 1872 while this year's vote is dated 1870. This is about as accurate as can be expected from our obfuscated neighbor, and its readers will never know the difference. But the errors are not all so innocent as the above, for it gives a conspicuous comparison of the majorities in all the districts for 1868 and 1872, and by means of a palpable and presumably intentional blunder of 1000 votes, changes a net Democratic gain of 481. The process by which this is accomplished is by subtracting 12,861 Democratic votes in the Third District in 1868, from the 16,127 Republican votes and stating the majority at 4,246, instead of 3,246 as by the ordinary mathematical rules. Besides this it carefully excludes all account of the 100 scattering votes and gives a plurality as a majority. The aggregate Congressional plurality in 1868 was 17,663 instead of 18,687 as stated in the Commercial and the actual aggregate majority was 17,— as previously stated by us. We have therefore;

Republican majorities 1872,	18,182
" " 1868,	17,473
Net Republican gain,	709

This is a different, a truthful, and better showing than the Commercial's absurd claim of a Democratic net gain of 8 based on its own false computations.

Our neighbor has also tried some rather melancholy experiments with the returns of this Congressional District, but h by no means exhausted the instructive combinations which may be obtained from these figures. For instance, we will take the Commercial's own figures and subject t of this year to the following analysis

PENOBSCOT.

Vote for Perham,	9,109
" " Hersey,	9,351
Hersey runs ahead,	182
Vote for Kimball,	5,975
" " Emery,	5,675
Emery runs behind,	300
Add Perham's majority,	482
Hersey over Emery,	5,194

PISCATAQUIS.

Vote for Perham,	1,955
" " Hersey,	1,969
Hersey runs ahead,	14
Vote for Kimball,	1,770
" " Emery,	1,648
Emery runs behind,	78
Add Perham's majority,	1,92
Hersey over Emery,	1,771

AROOSTOOK.

Vote for Perham,	2,449
" " Hersey,	2,474
Hersey runs ahead,	25
Vote for Kimball,	1,865
" " Emery,	1,982
Emery runs behind,	91
Add Perham's majority,	1,18
Hersey over Emery,	404

From this it will be seen that while Hersey ran ahead of his ticket in every county, gaining 221 votes in all, Marcellus Emery ran behind his ticket in every county, being cut by no less than 471 voters of his own party. In view of these figures it is certainly amusing to be informed by the editor of the Commercial that "He did not smuggle or permit to be smuggled, his ballot into the opposition ticket!" When he could not keep his name on the ticket of his own party we should judge that there was not much temptation for offering it to Republicans. The demand for split tickets of this description was not vociferous.

APOSTLES OF RECONCILIATION.

At the Greeley meeting in Faneuil Hall last week, the principal speaker was General Bradley T. Johnson of Virginia, and late of the "C. S. A." He came to teach New Englanders their duty to their country and to appeal for "reconciliation." The Boston Post waxes eloquent over the advent of this Virginia patriot and refers to it in this style:

The old hall was consecrated anew to the cause of Freedom and Union. Every speech made was in the spirit of patriotism. That of Gen. Bradley T. Johnston was remarkable for its eloquent exposition of the situation; and on account of its fervid appeal and resistless arguments on behalf of peace, conciliation and peace was greeted with responsive thunders of approval by the throng that densely packed the Cradle of Liberty.

Now this gentleman who came North to consecrate the anew the Cradle of Liberty only last fall addressed a military organization at the State Fair in Richmond, Va., beginning his speech thus:—

"Guard of the Commonwealth! Significant name! There are men living, and women, too, still young, who have seen in serried ranks on the plain ten thousand men in gray, with blue steel in their hands, who were of a verity the Guard of the Commonwealth! And while the memories of those days sweep over these human hearts, the tide rushes back again, overwhelming with grief. For those days are past, and the furled flag and rusty sabre and blackened musket are ogre emblems of memory, not of hope. Yet the race from which we sprang is a race that never relinquishes its rights. It may lose them for a time, but as sure as the sun shines and the buds blossom, so surely will they in the fullness of time retrieve everything now lost."

In commending upon this occasion the Richmond State Journal refers to many other incidents in keeping with the tenor of the address. It says:

"Our attention was called this morning to a fact we failed to observe yesterday in connection with the parade of the military companies. THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES WAS ENTIRELY IGNORED, AND THE LITTLE "U. S." WERE TORN FROM THE GARTERS OF HORSES, a number of the members declaring that they would not parade at all if compelled to do so with those letters on the house."

No wonder that loyal men should wax indignant at the effrontery of this man, and there are few but will sympathize with the Maine soldier who wrote to the Boston Journal:—"In 1869, Gen. Bradley T. Johnson tied the Union flag to his horse's tail and dragged it through the streets of Frederic City; and yet he has the audacity to come here and ask New England soldiers to vote with him and his rotten cause." These are the agencies of "reconciliation" and Faneuil Hall is to be "consecrated" by the presence of such men. Do the Greeley managers think the people are fools?

DEATH OF GARRET DAVIS. The telegraph announces the death of Garret Davis, U. S Senator from Kentucky, which occurred at his residence in Paris, Ky. at 6:30 Sunday morning, after an illness of four weeks. Mr. Davis was born at Mount Sterling, Ky., Sept. 10, 1801; received an English and classical education; he studied law and came to the bar in 1823. In 1833 he was elected to the Legislature, and twice re-elected. In 1839 he was a member of the State Constitutional Convention; from 1839 to 1847 he was a Representative in Congress from Kentucky, and declined a re-election; although always actively engaged in the practice of his profession, he for many years devoted much attention to the pursuits of agriculture. In 1861 he was elected a Senator to Congress from Kentucky, succeeding John C. Breckenridge. In the term ending in 1867, serving on the committees on Foreign Relations, on Territories, Claims and Pensions.—From early manhood until the death of Henry Clay, he was one of the most intimate, personal and political friends of that statesman. In 1864 he was appointed a Regent of the Smithsonian Institute, and in 1866 he was one of the Senators designated by the Senate to attend the funeral of General Scott. In January, 1867, he was reelected to the Senate for the term ending in 1873.

When John F. Farnsworth failed to get the nomination for Congress, and immediately discovered the corruption of the Republican party he gave his reasons to an audience at St. Charles, where he resides. The day was hot and he had very hard work. After the speech he went to a drug store, near by, to have his head showered. The druggist's daughter opened her innocent eyes very wide and said: "Pa, is General Farnsworth's head sore?"

THE SITUATION IN WISCONSIN. Representatives Sawyer and Rusk of Wisconsin represent the Greeley movement in that State as at a very low ebb and daily settling lower. The proportion of Democrats who reject the confederation is probably larger in Wisconsin than in any other State, and many of the Independents are in open sympathy with the Republicans. Straight Democratic opponents are running again st both Eldridge in the Fond du Lac and Mitchell in the Milwaukee districts, and with good prospects of serious effect in the latter.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The writings of D. R. Locke, or as he is more familiarly known "Petroleum, V. Nasby," including his lectures, now printed for the first time, have been collected and revised by the author and published in a volume of seven hundred and fifteen pages. There is very flattering Introduction by Charles Sumner, written before that eminent Senator and taken up his abode at the "Confederate X Roads." Probably no productions of a political character have exercised more influence in determining public sentiment on the points of difference between the two great parties of the nation, than these effusions purporting to come from "Confederate X Roads, Kentucky." To add to the interest which will be felt in their volume, the publication has been delayed by the author's illness, and the work is now for sale only by subscription. D. N. Richardson & Co., publishers, Boston.

VERY TREACHEROUS. It is no secret that rats have in common with man, selfish passions, but unlike man, they have no careful monitor to admonish them of the sinfulness of their ways. They are, therefore, to be pitied and not condemned that they follow their rodent natures. But a man in Pennsylvania has taken advantage of these passions by inventing a rat-trap calculated to lure their possessors to destruction. A mirror is set in the back of the device beyond the bait, and as his ratship is out on a foraging expedition, he espies the bait, and at the same time believes his own image in the mirror to be another rat making for it on the opposite side. The result is that the selfishness of the rat nature cannot stand this, so he goes at once at full trot for the bait and is of course overwhelmed. If we could only calculate the amount of evil that looking-glasses have worked in their time, we believe the world would stand appalled. The vain beauty and the greedy rat alike fall before its fascinations. The first sees charms there that have no existence save in her own mind, and the latter sees but the shadow of a luring lump of appetizing Cheshire. Such is life!—Boston Globe.

Consumption can be Cured.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption.

Sometimes medicines that will stop a cough will often occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, clogging the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the cause of two thirds of the cases of consumption. Many are now coughing with dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes costive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder blade, feeling sometimes very restless, and at other times drowsy; the head is dizzy, has a bad taste in the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach, or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two pills, and find that if the cough in these cases be suddenly stopped, the lungs, already much clogged, and remain torpid and inactive, and begin the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are a mass of corruption, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic disolves the food, mixes it with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests easily, nourishes the system, and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, take either, and the patient is of a dilatious habit, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required. These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, Penn., and for sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Hanover street, Boston, & JOHN F. HENRY, 8 College place, New York, Wholesale Agents.

A Wonderful Invention.

The Morrison Dental Engine!

I have procured, direct from the manufacturers, one of these truly wonderful little machines, which to the dentist and the patient are what the sewing machine is to the seamstress, in that at least three-fourths of the labor and time usually required to fill a tooth is by its use dispensed with, while the pain generally attendant upon the operation is entirely annulled, besides enabling the operator to perform his work in a vastly more acceptable manner than was ever before possible. I should be pleased to exhibit its operation to all who will favor me by making an examination of its merits.

REMARKABLE THREE MILE TROT—THE FASTEST TIME ON RECORD. The second race at Prospect Park, N. Y., on Saturday, was the most remarkable that has occurred in many years. The Association gave a purse of $1250 with $1000 added to the horse beating the celebrated Dutchman's time of 7.32½, made thirty years ago. Hardly any one supposed the feat would be accomplished, and the betting was ten to one in favor of time, but Huntress, by Alden Goldsmith's Volunteer, trotted the three miles easily in 7.21¼, beating Dutchman's time 11¼ seconds, ... on the last mile with ... to be at all distressed at the termination of the race.

What makes the performance more remarkable is that Huntress went to harness, while Dutchman was ridden by the celebrated Hiram Woodruff. The following is the time in detail: First quarter 36½ seconds; half mile, 1.13; three-quarters mile, 1.51; mile, 2.28½; mile and a quarter, 3.05; mile and three quarters, 4.17½; two miles, 4.54½; two and a half, 6.06¼; two and three-quarters, 6.44; three miles, 7.21¼.

—The days and nights are now nearly of equal length.

—Twenty-seven vessels arrived at this port yesterday.

—A new Union depot is to be built at Fairfield Village, immediately.

—Travel on the night trains between this city and St. John is constantly increasing.

—Leslie's well-known and favorite comedy company appears at Orono this evening.

—Mr. W. L. Seavy launched his beautiful cedar shell "toothpick" yesterday afternoon.

—The schooner Carrie E. Woodbury arrived yesterday with a deck-load of very large masts for Holyoke & Son.

—The timber "cob-work" under the western span of the railroad bridge over the Kenduskeag is nearly completed.

—Mr. G. L. Westgate, 11 Main st., is closing out his stock of dry goods at auction, preparatory to removing to his new store.

—The Cambridge took out an unusually large number of passengers for Boston yesterday morning.

—The Maine Central passenger train from the west was an hour late last evening, owing to detention of the Boston train.

—It will be seen by our special from Castine that the schooner Majestic of this city which was reported foundered at sea, arrived all right on Sunday.

—We learn that Mr. W. A. Pottle of Pittsfield, while at work in the Hammatt mill at Orono, last Saturday, had one half of his right hand cut off by a saw.

—Mr. Dennis Tracey of this city has entered to row at the regatta of the Maine Boating Association in Portland Harbor next Friday.

—Two belligerently inclined chaps had a set-to in a stable near the upper end of French street, last evening, and both came off with frescoed countenances.

—Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe will give readings from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Oldtown Folks" and others of her works, in Music Hall the last of next month or the first of November.

—Forty four cars were received at the E. & N. A. station yesterday, three of which were loaded with leather and five with bark. Eight cars were received from the B. & P. road, including two loaded with slate.

—The Weekly Courier, for the week ending to-day, contains a full report of the State Fair last week, and persons desiring to send an account of the "Agricultural Festival" to friends elsewhere, will find copies in wrappers at this office, ready for mailing.

—We learn from Mr. H. W. Knowles that 2500 persons passed the summer at Mount Desert, over 100 of them residing in cottages and the remainder at the hotels and boarding houses. Besides these there were more than a thousand transient visitors.

—A small black-and-tan terrier was seen acting strangely at the corner of Harlow and Central streets last evening, and thinking the animal discovered symptoms of hydrophobia, a bystander killed it with a shot from a revolver.

—Messrs. Fanning, Hunt, Thomas, Chadwick and Jenks, who were in the sail-boat which capsized on Pushaw pond a few weeks since, are about presenting a beautiful gold medal to Capt. McNally, for his his gallant and successful efforts in rescuing them from drowning.

—We learn that Mr. J. W. Strange of this city contemplates exhibiting at the New England Mechanical and Industrial Fair at Lowell next month, the novel and beautifully finished rotary-valve engine which attracted so much attention in Norombega Hall last week.

—Dr. Babcock has procured one of Morrison's dental engines, by the use of which much time and labor is saved to the dentist and much pain is avoided by the patient. It will excavate a cavity in the hardest tooth in a wonderfully brief time and apparently much better than it can be done by hand.

—A pair of horses attached to a dump-cart and owned by Mr. Taylor Durgin of this city, driven too near the edge of the gravel bank in Brewer yesterday, and the bank caving, the whole team was precipitated into the deep cut and tangled up in a very miscellaneous manner, but fortunately without injury.

—A horse took fright on Main st. yesterday morning and ran away at the top of his speed. His driver whose name we did not learn, jumped out and received some severe bruises, while the horse kept on his way with the buggy attached and for aught we know may be running yet.

CHOICE GRAPES. Mr. Adam Schenger, at his green house on Newbury st., raises the present year about five hundred pounds of choice grapes. He keeps also all the varieties of plants and flowers desired for house or out door culture, and finds time to keep everything about his establishment neat and in order.

NOT SMALL POX. Rumors have been afloat that there was a case of small-pox at the Codman House, Oldtown, but, we learn that they are entirely without foundation. A lady who was a guest at the hotel was taken sick, the report was spread that she had the small-pox or varioloid, and she was promptly removed, but Drs. Folsom, Perley and Elkins, who were called to attend the case make affidavit that the patient is "entirely free from the slightest symptom of either small-pox or varioloid, and that there is not a shadow of cause for public alarm."

—A man about sixty years of age, who says his name is Thomas Blackwell and that he belongs in Waterville, called at the Franklin House late last night and wanted a bed, paying for his lodgings in advance, from a roll of bills amounting to over $120, but declining to go to his room and acting so strangely that those who saw him concluded he must be of unsound mind. Officers Stewart and Quimby took him in charge and gave him a bed at the station, where he will be well cared for until his friends can be heard from.

STATE FAIR RECEIPTS. We learn from W. P. Hubbard, Esq., Treasurer of the Maine State Agricultural Society, that the total receipts at the Fair last week, including the $1000 appropriation by the city and the citizens' subscription of an equal amount, amounted to about $13,500. The Society's property at the grounds, which will be available for use next year, is valued at about $6000 more. The expenses exceeded the receipts from $8000 to $10,000, we understand, owing to the bad weather of the two last days of the exhibition, which kept away thousands of people. Sympathizing with the managers of the Society in their discouragement, many of the exhibitors have relinquished all hold upon premiums awarded them, prominent gentlemen have signified their willingness to aid in a subscription to help make up the deficit, and some who have bills against the Society have made a liberal discount upon them. Among the exhibitors who have donated their premiums to the Society are Gen. W. S. Tilden and E. L. Norcross of Augusta, Dr. S. L. Tewksbury of Phillips, John Hobson, esq., of Corinth, and others, ... [illegible] ... amounts were awarded.

CHILD DROWNED. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a little girl between four and five years of age, daughter of Patrick Judge, who resides on Church lane, was standing on the edge of Roberts' wharf at the foot of Boyd st., watching some boys in a boat picking up drift-wood, when she lost her balance and fell over into the river and immediately sank. A number of children who were standing near by saw the accident, and went for assistance at once, and the child was soon recovered, but too late to save her life. Every effort was made to resuscitate her, but in vain, and her body was taken home to her sorrowing parents, whom she had left but a brief time before.

SPORT AHEAD. We learn that a number of our citizens, wishing to encourage our amateur oarsmen in the pursuit of their healthful exercise, propose obtaining a subscription cup or medal to be rowed for this season by amateurs only. It is understood that some of the best oarsmen in the city including Mr. Tracy, Mr. Nickerson and Mr. Seavey, will row for the prize if sufficient notice is given, and we hope the project may succeed and the interest in aquatic sports be once more aroused. Our river furnishes an excellent course, in full sight from both sides, and if the races comes off we anticipate a larger "cloud of witnesses" than the late State Fair called out.

THE COMPREHENSIVE FAMILY BIBLE AND BIBLICAL LIBRARY COMBINED. The great value of this splendid work lies in its completeness and unequalled arrangement, with the immense amount of valuable and authentic information it contains, together with a complete and improved illustrated dictionary of the Bible, a concordance, and a large number of useful tables and other valuable features incorporated in it, making "Stowe's Comprehensive and Self-interpreting Family Bible and Biblical Library Combined," stand unrivalled as being in every way the very best for universal use. This is the voluntary testimony of every clergyman and every scholar, without one single exception, who has examined this Encyclopedia of religious knowledge.

HORSE EDUCATION. The exhibition at Prof. Pratt's tent yesterday afternoon was well attended, and the audience witnessed the education of a horse so afraid of an umbrella that it took four men to hold him when one was opened. After thirty minutes instruction under the Professor's system, the animal was ridden round the streets with an open umbrella over his head, giving no signs of fear. In the evening the tent was filled by an excellent audience to see the training of a biting horse and another that would not stand while its owner got into or out of his carriage. The animals were soon brought to see the error of their ways, and became perfectly docile under the Professor's treatment. The class now numbers over two hundred members, and should include every man in town who owns or drives a horse, as information is gained in the Professor's lectures that can be acquired in no other manner. This afternoon Prof. Pratt will educate another horse that will not stand and is afraid of his heels, and this evening, a runaway and a kicker.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. On Saturday last while Rev. James Norris, superintending the work at the Eagle Slate Quarry (Dr. Norris' quarry) in Monson, was attempting to swing the boom of the derrick against a strong north-west wind, by pulling on a rope attached to the end of it, the stake against which he was leaning gave way and he was drawn over the precipice and fell to the bottom of the pit, a distance of forty feet, striking upon the solid ledge. He was taken up and carried to the nearest house in an insensible condition, where he received needed medical aid. It was found that his left arm was badly fractured, his right ankle severely sprained, a deep gash cut under the chin, extending into the mouth, and that he was severely bruised over the hips, shoulders, and at various other places. He is now as comfortable as could reasonably be expected and strong hopes are entertained of his recovery. His escape from instant death is indeed wonderful.

DR. S. JACOBS, ON APHONIA, OR LOSS OF VOICE.—Orange Street, ST. JOHN, N. B., 1869.—MR. FELLOWS—Sir: I am bound to award the palm of merit to the preparation of Hypophosphites discovered by you. I had occasion to use it myself in a case of Aphonia, which would not yield to regular treatment and am happy to say, it proved to be all that you claimed for it, having acted with expedition and entire satisfaction.

I feel called upon to publish the fact, that the profession may avail themselves of a remedy in your "Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites."

Yours, very truly, S. JACOBS, M. D.

DELICATE CREATURES.—This is the phrase applied by His Blackness, the Moor of Venice, to the fair ladies of Italy. It was the lovely complexion of Desdemona, such a radiant contrast to his own that won his heart; and sooth to say, every man of discernment considers a fair skin, like a sweet voice, "an excellent thing in woman." Now this is a charm which can be acquired. There is a healthful and odoriferous toilet article, known everywhere as HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, which literally transfigures a cloudy or sallow skin, suffusing the discolored face, neck, arms, and bosom with a soft, pearly tinge, and imparting to the surface a smoothness and a gloss like that of polished marble. Instead of clogging the pores, like the sticky enamels, or contracting them and thus obstructing perspiration, like the astringent cosmetics, it cleanses the skin from all impurities, and wonderfully improves its texture. This peculiarity is particularly appreciated by our rural belles, who find that the coarseness and roughness, which country air is apt to engender, are speedily removed from their faces, hands and arms, by, this delightful preparation.

The vigorous action produced in the nervous system by the toning and stimulating properties of SMOLANDER'S BUCHU sustains and supports the entire nerve structure. It is also the panacea for kidney, bladder and glandular diseases, diabetes, gravel, mental and physical debility, youthful errors or indiscretions, and nervousness. It builds up the human constitution.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—After all other applications fail, Holloway's Ointment is guaranteed to heal an ulcerated leg or any running sore without pain or danger. In dyspepsia the Pills are a positive specific. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot or box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

Professional Success.

DR. H. A. BARROW'S practice in Bangor has been extremely successful. He has restored several patients to sound and vigorous health, whose cases were considered incurable. He continues to be confidently consulted as usual, at his private office, 18 Main Street, Bangor, Maine, in all those cases of diseases for the treatment of which he is so justly celebrated. Hundreds are suffering from the effects of early indiscretion because they have not consulted the educated Physician who has made these diseases a specialty, and therefore endowed with every qualification for success, restoring the patient to health and strength.

Dr. Barrow's treatment during an attentive practice of many years is eminently successful in curing Nervous, Mental and Physical Debility, Languor, Depression of Spirits, Painful Dreams, Loss of Appetite, Memory, &c. His great experience, the high honors and testimonials he has received for his superior treatment of those diseases requiring skilled and confidential advice, enables him to ensure a safe and speedy cure.

The Doctor particularly invites those patients whose cases have been neglected or pronounced incurable, to place themselves without delay under his care assuring them that all that can be accomplished by experience, skill, and the successful results of a long practice will be at their service.

He distinctly states that no case will be undertaken unless a permanent cure can be guaranteed. All letters, containing the usual consultation fee, ... will be attended to.

Hours of consultation from 9 in the morning till 1 P. M., and from 2 till 4, and from that time till 9 in the evening, at the Franklin House.

... RAILROAD

Is the great air-line, low-grade by route which the

is carried direct from the mines to the manufactories and docks of Chicago.

The success of this road is not a matter of speculation, but of accomplished fact. In the seven months subsequent to the opening of the line from Chicago to Danville, in January last, the earnings were $324,993.61, or enough after deducting operating expenses, to pay a dividend on the stock, beside interest upon the bonded debt.

THE INDIANA DIVISION,

now being built, will very largely increase the business of the entire line, as it will traverse both Bituminous and Block Coal fields, to which the main and branch tracks of the CHICAGO, DANVILLE AND VINCENNES Railroad will have very ready and economical access.

This Division will be finished during the present season, the necessary iron and other material having been bought and paid for.

The Company's

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS

have been justly regarded as a prime security, the location of the line, the financial strength of the stockholders in the Company, and the very unusually large earnings combining to prove these Bonds safe beyond question. They have been sold freely during the past few months to Trust Companies, Savings Banks, and the most shrewd and careful investors. The amount per mile is only about $18,500 making annual interest charge of only $1,295 per mile, while the earnings have already been nearly $5,000 per mile.

The bonds are for $1,000 each, payable in forty years, with interest at the rate of 7 per cent. gold, payable April and October. Present price 90 and accrued interest in currency. Those purchasing before October 1st will have the advantage of the gold premium upon the Coupon due on that date.

We have no hesitation in fully recommending these Bonds as eminently

SAFE AND PROFITABLE,

And advise those who would secure any portion of the loan to make early application, before it is entirely closed out.

OCTOBER SONG.

[illegible] sang gay October,
"Deep brown eyes running over with glee,
Blue eyes are pure, and grey eyes are sober;
Raisin brown eyes are the eyes for me."

Black eyes shine in the glowing summer
With tears of rose and yellow of corn;
But cold they show when the still lake's deeper,
Silvery Frost, creeps over the morn.

Blue eyes shimmer with angel glances,
Like spring violets over the lea—
But oh, big Grapes, my Wines, and my Dances,
What have angels in common with me?

Go, Gray eyes! What know ye of laughing,
Gladly with glee from the mirre mind?
Ye're not books! What know ye of quaffing
Luscious juice from the riotous vine?

All the earth is full of frolicking;
Growing is over; harvest is done;
All the trees are ready for rollicking,
Coloring scarlet with rustical fun.

So, O Brown Eyes, in the purple weather,
A crown of oak leaves with maple bright
Shall be your brow, while gayly together
We two will wander to heart's content.

Tame October's wild voice was singing,
While on all as pipe he cunningly played
All the red woods with music were ring—
Arl Brown Eyes listened, with foot—stayed—

Wanted to hear the song beguiling,
Listened and laughed through the [illegible] day;
And earth and sky fell to merry smiting
As hand in hand they wandered away.

CORN LAID FOR WHEAT.—The [illegible] culture of corn stubble for spring grain should begin in the autumn—in fact the success of the crop should be kept in view when tilling the corn in the summer, and an extra cultivation given in the late in order to destroy weeds as great an extent as possible; for the weeds which ripen their annual seeds, or start from their perennial roots after mid-summer, are great pests of the grain crop the following year. But after the crop is off the field preparation for the next crop should begin by levelling the surface with the plow and harrow, to be finished off by plowing. This fall ploughing should be done as early as possible and when the ground is fairly dry, and if subsoiling could be done it would pay, and prove highly beneficial as the frost would thus better pulverize the subsoil than if left unstirred.—Am. THE NEW RANGE excels anything of its kind ever offered for sale. It requires much less space than ordinary cooking stoves, and is more economical. It will bear as much warm as a range set in masonry.

The HOT CLOSET retains the heat usually radiated from the bottom while it is during the summer and the WORSE THAN WASTED, thereby making a SAVING FUEL, but making the KITCHEN MORE COMFORTABLE, besides furnishing an admirable place for warming and keeping food warm, warming plates, &c. The door can be removed during cold weather to allow the heat to escape into the kitchen.

Coals are separated from the ashes in the SIFTING CHAMBER.

The following are some of the useful improvements of this Range.

1st. It has no Set Selling Holes.
